

Fire In Montana Timber Kills 13, Ruins 6000 Acres

Helena, Mont., Aug. 8 (AP)—Wind sent flames boiling up Willow Mountain this morning as weary men strained desperately to trap the mammoth Gates Of The Mountain fire.

About 400 men worked throughout last night building fire lines to encircle the blaze which has killed 12 forest service paratroopers and another fire fighter.

They hoped to complete the final three miles of fire line, bottling the wilderness area blaze on 7,500-foot Willow peak today. But westerly winds of 15 to 25 miles an hour drove rampaging flames rapidly towards the east slope and vast expanses of dense timber beyond.

The weather bureau predicted, moreover, that winds may increase to 25-35 miles an hour late today.

The fire has blacked 5,000 to 6,000 acres since Friday and has a perimeter of 21 miles.

Showers slowed the advance of the flames yesterday but a 20 mile an hour wind fanned the fire in the northeastern section.

The fire devastated from 800 to 1,000 acres yesterday.

Willow mountain is east of Mann Gulch, where the lightning blaze started Friday. The fire has moved four miles east of where the Missouri river winds picturesquely through mountain peaks.

New Want Ad Wife Hunting Apartment

St. Joseph, Mo., Pair Wed On Ballroom Platform

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 8 (AP)—Charles Donelson who wooed and wed his want-ad bride in a five-day courtship began a task today that probably will take much longer—apartment hunting.

Donelson, 21, and blue-eyed Miss Irene Krebs, 18, were married Saturday night on a ballroom bandstand.

The former soldier and one-time circus fire-eater needed a bride in a hurry last week so he advertised for a wife in a newspaper want ad.

Some 300 women responded. Donelson, who is 5 feet 2 inches tall, chose Miss Krebs, a 5 foot, 2 inch brunette.

Their whirlwind courtship culminated in the Saturday night wedding.

"When things got going," Donelson said, "they really went."

A hotel furnished the couple rooms for one night. So today their search for living quarters started.

The wedding was a double ceremony. Orville Mortimore, 20, Donelson's partner in a roofing business, and Miss Delores Haskey, 19, were married also.

Lightning Bounces And Kills Baseball Player

Urbana, O., Aug. 8 (AP)—A bolt of lightning, which took a giant bounce from center field to first base, struck and killed a semi-pro baseball player here yesterday. Three other players were slightly injured.

None of the estimated 400 spectators was hurt.

The victim was Harold Jensen, 26, first baseman for Urbana in the Miami Valley league.

He was standing about 15 feet from base. A drizzle had started a few minutes before the lightning struck.

Asia Powers Act To Halt Red Menace

China And South Korea Call Conference

(By The Associated Press)

The leaders of Nationalist China and the South Korean republics called today for a conference of Asian powers to draft a Pacific Alliance against Communism.

Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and President Syngman Rhee of South Korea made the request in a joint statement issued after a two-day conference in Chinhae, Korea. They asked President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines to summon the nations.

Quirino, in San Francisco on his way to visit President Truman, had no comment. He and Chiang laid the foundation for a Pacific pact last month in a similar conference at Baguio, in the Philippines.

The picture has changed since then, however. Quirino recast last week his entire concept of the projected Pacific union and eliminated all reference to Chiang and his crumbling Nationalist regime in China. The United States issued a white paper which labelled the Chiang government a failure in the civil war against the Chinese Communists.

New Policy Formulated

Now Washington seeks the development of a new American policy toward China and the Orient. Secretary of State Acheson expects to begin consultations with congressional foreign policy committees on the subject before the end of the present session of Congress.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, Republican floor leader in the House, said yesterday that Republicans "stand ready to join with the administration in the formulation of a strengthened China policy for peace."

Leaders of 10 non-Communist European nations met in Strasbourg, France, for the first session of the Council of Europe. It is hoped the discussions there will advance the countries a long step down the road toward full European unity.

Represented are Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Iceland. The countries are to extend its area into southeastern Europe with the formal addition of Greece and Turkey to the present membership. Some council members favor adding west Germany as the 13th member as soon as the new west German state chooses a government next week.

America's top military planners concluded a 10-day tour of the Atlantic pact countries, aimed at cementing them into a solid defense wall.

Georgia Klan War Has Shooting Spree

One-Armed Mayor Runs Down Ku Klux Leader

Iron City, Ga., Aug. 8 (AP)—A one-armed Georgia mayor and some of his friends renewed a shooting war against robed, night-riding Ku Klux Klansmen yesterday.

To top it off, the mayor chased a Klan official into Alabama at 10-mile-an-hour pace and had him jailed.

The shooting spree started, said Mayor C. L. Drake of Iron City, when 12 or 15 carloads of robed Klansmen rolled into this little southwest Georgia hamlet in the dark, early Sunday morning hours. One unidentified Klansman received a flesh wound. Drake reported none of his fighters was hurt.

The mayor, a Klan foe of long standing, declared "some of the bullets whizzed by within five feet of me" while he hastily scribbled down the robed figures' auto tag numbers.

Drake said he didn't have a gun but that some of his friends did and they peppered the Klan convoy with shotgun and pistol fire. The night riders retaliated, he related.

Several hours elapsed between the shooting and the daredevil automobile chase to Dothan, Ala., 38-miles away. Drake added that while in Dothan he looked in Hendrix's car and found Klan cloaks, receipt books, guns, one Tommy gun clip and carbon copies of Klan letters. He identified Hendrix as "acting agent of the Grand Dragon of Florida."

Bucking the Klan is nothing new to Mayor Drake. He recently announced he had thwarted a Klan kidnap attempt by opening fire with an automatic shotgun. He said the Klan wanted to kidnap him because he had opposed Gov. Herman Talmadge politically.

AIRPORT DEDICATED

Grand Haven, (AP)—This city's new Memorial airport was dedicated Sunday, with Congressman Gerald R. Ford, Jr., state labor mediation board chairman Noel Fox and Mayor Martin Boon taking part in the ceremonies. The 8,000 persons gathered for the dedication saw an air show put on by a squadron of Naval Reserve planes from Glenview, Ill.

Attracts Half Million

Detroit, Aug. 8 (AP)—The second international air fair, held at Willow Run airport over the weekend, attracted almost a half-million spectators.

Sunday, 175,000 persons jammed inside the gigantic 4,000 acre airfield. An estimated 200,000 were gathered outside to watch the aerobatics by three groups of the world's fastest jet planes.

House Wades Into Debate On Boosting Minimum Wage

Death Toll In Ecuador's Quake Over 4,600; Damage 20 Million

By JORGE MANTILLA

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 8 (AP)—The unofficial death toll in earthquake-ravaged Ecuador soared above 4,600 today as damage estimates from some 29 mountain towns reached $20,000,000. Countless thousands were reported hurt.

The Ecuadorian cabinet voted in emergency session last night to take immediate action on President Galo Plaza Lasso's plans to rebuild the stricken areas—most populous in Ecuador.

The defense ministry said 2,000 troops were on duty in the worst hit zones and order was being maintained.

Communications were being restored slowly as the Ecuadorian air force ferried doctors, nurses and medical aid to thousands of injured.

Three U. S. Caribbean air command planes from Balboa took six tons of relief supplies to Quito yesterday. They included blood plasma, serums and drugs.

The president, back from a tour of the ravaged areas, said some of the scenes of suffering rivalled even the "most Dantesque" imagination.

Four towns which virtually disappeared from the map were Guano, Patate, Pelileo and Pillaro.

They said the number of persons buried along the slopes of Tungurahua volcano may never be known. They reported that when the quake struck masses of earth slid away from the mountainsides and the volcano erupted.

Frantic relatives who fought their way into the earthquake area in search of loved ones found mountains of debris instead of communities.

The Patate river was blocked by a landslide which created a lake at the foot of the old town of Patate.

Liquor Commission Ouster Of Kunzig Opposed In Lansing

Detroit, Aug. 8 (AP)—"Political graft and corruption" would result from the dismissal of Louis A. Kunzig as executive director of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, a Republican member charged today.

Republican Commissioner Harry Henderson of Detroit has objected to Kunzig's ouster by the two-man Democratic majority.

Henderson made his charges in a report to Arthur Rasch, director of the Michigan Civil Service commission. It is expected to review Kunzig's case early in September.

The report urged that the reorganization of the commission—which accompanied the firing of Kunzig—be rejected as a "ridiculous subterfuge."

The post of executive director, Henderson claimed, was being made a political plum to reward a Democrat for a "sizeable donation" to the party.

He further asserted that the reshuffling would make possible "the return of conditions which infested the commission" prior to Kunzig's appointment to the $10,380 a year job in 1944.

Stolen Car Plunges Boy To Death In Police Race

Hendersonville, N. C., Aug. 8 (AP)—A youth died last night when the auto he was driving plunged down a 1,000-foot embankment in the Blue Ridge Mountains near here. State highway patrolmen said he had stolen the car and was being pursued by policemen.

The victim was Albert Cox, 16, of Fletcher. Highway Patrolmen J. B. Kuykendall and Dan W. Frady said he had stolen the car at Saluda, just south of here, and was being chased by Saluda policemen at the time of the accident.

The embankment, on a sharp curve in U. S. Highway 176 eight miles south of here, has been the scene of many accidents.

Florida Vigilantes Hunt Crazy Killer

Man, 70, Knifed to Death; Four Others Mauled

Crystal Beach, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—Armed bands of vigilantes spread out today for a killer who stabbed a 70-year-old man to death yesterday and shot, slashed and mauled four others.

Dead of stab wounds was Norman Browne, who was found tied spread-eagled on his bed in a secluded home in this Florida West Coast community. His throat, stomach and wrists were slashed. Officers described the killer as intoxicated or crazed.

The slain man's 60-year-old wife, Mrs. Annie E. Browne, was critically injured by a blow on the head, apparently made with a shotgun butt. She also was slashed.

Miles Crum, 31-year-old grocer, was wounded in the stomach when he and his wife and child came to call on the Brownes.

Mrs. Thelma Crum, 29, was felled by a blow from the shotgun butt as she tried to run away with her eight-month-old baby, Judy.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Crum were reported in critical condition early today at a hospital.

The child apparently received only glancing blows and was not seriously hurt.

From what the injured victims were able to tell, Patrolman Carl Cassels and Peace Justice J. S. Register said the killer was after money. After tying the Brownes in their garage, he rifled the house. Later he took them in the house and tied them in their beds.

Confessed British Vampire Killer To Hang Wednesday

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—Home Secretary James Chuter Ede ruled today that John George Haigh, confessed vampire killer of nine persons, must hang Wednesday as scheduled.

Ede made the decision after hearing from a panel of experts on mental diseases, who examined the 40-year-old murderer at London's Wandsworth prison.

Haigh was convicted July 19 of the murder of Mrs. Olivia Durand-Deacon, 69-year-old widow who lived at the same hotel.

A confession introduced at the trial said Haigh drank a glass of his blood and dissolved her body in a vat of sulphuric acid. It said he had done the same with eight other persons in a murder orgy which began in 1945.

Little Rhine City Is Host To Ministers

Council Of Europe Holds Its First Session

By JOSEPH DYNAN

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 8 (AP)—The flags of 10 nations bedeck this little city on the Rhine to welcome representatives of those countries who today begin the first session of the council of Europe.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Ireland, the charter nation members, meet today at the medieval Strasbourg city hall, in a step toward a federated continent.

Today's conferees comprise the committee of ministers of the council. They may be compared to the government of Europe, if a federated continent comes into being.

Frontiers Extended

Wednesday, the council's first consultative assembly meets. The assembly is a parliament. It is made up of delegations from the parliaments of the member countries.

The council is prepared to extend its frontiers into southeastern Europe with the formal addition of Greece and Turkey to the present membership.

British official sources said the Foreign Ministers committee, the council's executive arm, will approve membership for the two applicants at its first sitting this afternoon.

Both new countries will be allotted seats in the consultative assembly—eight for Turkey and six for Greece—bringing the assembly's roster up to 101 deputies.

The council brings together in the committee of ministers and the assembly half a dozen organizations that work for European unity and individual leaders of almost every political cast, except the extremes of Fascism and Communism.

Air Collision Fatal To Milwaukee Pilot

Light Plane Demolished; Liner Safe With 23

Milwaukee, Aug. 8 (AP)—A Capital Airlines DC-3 with 23 persons on board landed safely here yesterday after six feet of its right wingtip was ripped off in a collision with a light plane.

The pilot, the sole occupant of the light plane, Arthur Rapps, 33, of Milwaukee, was killed. None of the 20 passengers or three crew members of the airliner was hurt.

The twin-engine DC-3 and the single-engine plane collided 1,000 feet over Maitland field, Milwaukee's lake front airport. Rapp's ship spun into a parking lot near the field and was demolished.

Capt. Jack Block, of Detroit, guide the crippled airliner into a safe landing at Billy Mitchell field, some six miles south of where the collision occurred.

Bolick said he did not see the light plane, and added that the impact "was quite a jolt."

The airliner had stopped at Detroit and Muskegon, Mich., on its way here from Norfolk, Va. It was just crossing the Lake Michigan shoreline to enter the Billy Mitchell field traffic pattern when the mishap occurred.

Lovely Widow Goes To St. Louis Game With Vice President

St. Louis, Aug. 8 (AP)—With nothing like the secrecy attempted two weeks ago, Vice President Barkley turned up at a ball game yesterday with a very lovely and charming St. Louis widow.

Those are the adjectives he used with reference to Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, while she stared straight ahead as they sat together in owner Fred Saigh's box at Sportman's Park at the game between the Cardinals and Giants.

"Romance"—he was asked, and he answered:

"There have been rumors like that about me for the past year but that's as far as it's gotten."

The last time the vice president detoured his Washington-bound plane to St. Louis for a Sunday luncheon with Mrs. Hadley it was supposed to be "sort of secret," according to reports. Yesterday they kept their date in front of some 29,000 persons.

Fall Campaign Pledge Faced By Democrats

Unions Drum Up Support For Compromise Bill

By HOWARD DOBSON

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The House waded today into its second big labor debate of the year. This one is on whether to hike the national minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75.

The Democratic party's campaign pledge of last fall to raise the minimum and broaden coverage of the 1938 Wage-House Act was up for redemption. It faced the same determined, well-organized foes as the still-unrepealed campaign pledge to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law.

Democratic leaders were backing a compromise bill introduced last week by Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) of the House Labor committee. Many Southern Democrats and Republicans were lined up tentatively behind a measure sponsored by Rep. Lucas (D-Tex.), a labor committee member.

Lobbyists Crowd In

House members reported labor unions active in drumming up support for the compromise, but said union representatives would not state their support of the measure in writing. It falls short of the original administration bill in its coverage of workers.

"The town is jumping with lobbyists on this thing," said one labor committee Democrat.

Major amendments on the wage section of the bill were to be offered by Reps. Sims (D-SC) and Combs (D-Tex.), and floor managers of the legislation had notice of scores of other amendments ready to be brought up when the time comes.

The debate was expected to rage most, if not all, of the week. The situation was very similar to that at the beginning of the Taft-Hartley debate in the House, with one exception. In this case, the Democratic leadership's compromise was before the House at the beginning of the struggle.

In the Taft-Hartley debate it came out at the last minute, and was beaten. The House then went on and sent the whole controversy back to the labor committee, where it rests with no hope of getting out until next year.

Two Delta Polio Cases Reported Over Weekend

Two polio cases, one in Gladstone and the other in Masonville, were reported in Delta county over the weekend, bringing the total to three for the county so far this year.

The first case was that of an Escanaba girl and occurred last February.

Today it was reported that Daril Lindberg, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henning Lindberg, Kimbroch 15840, Detroit, was stricken while visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Marie Lindberg, at Masonville.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee health district, said the boy came to Masonville about July 4. He became ill and last Friday was admitted to St. Francis hospital for treatment. Saturday he was taken to the Michigan Children's Clinic at Marquette where his case was definitely diagnosed as poliomyelitis.

There is some involvement of the right leg, a residual affliction of polio.

It was also reported today from Gladstone that Gary Buckmaster, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buckmaster of 568 North Ninth street, is a victim of polio and is receiving treatment at Marquette. He was taken there yesterday afternoon.

There is an involvement of the left hand. Because the boy had fallen from a tree and injured his arm, polio was not at first suspected although there were other symptoms such as high fever, soreness of the neck, and vomiting.

Dr. Harrison said the cases clearly indicate that "the polio bug is around here." He said it is possible there have been many cases of polio that were not recognized and added that it appeared the "incidence of paralytic polio is extremely low." The colds and sore throats among children may be polio without paralytic involvement and therefore go unrecognized.

"Any child who does not appear well should be kept at home and under observation until the cause of his illness is determined," Dr. Harrison advised parents.

There is no general cause for alarm in the present situation, he added.

Peace Outlook Dim In Hawaiian Strike

Government Orders Work On Docks Resumed

By DOUGLAS LOVELACE
Honolulu, Aug. 8 (AP)—An imminent threat of government dock seizure brought no sign of early peace today in Hawaii's 100-day waterfront strike.

Backed by a new territorial law to put the government in the stevedoring business, Gov. Ingram M. Stainback ordered the islands' 2,000 striking CIO Longshoremen and seven struck firms to resume work immediately.

There was no indication either side would obey the order to keep the territory from taking over and operating the struck firms.

The International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union said its stevedores would not work for the government. IWLW President Harry Bridges said the union would fight "government scabbery" on the docks and in the courts.

The employer stand was not announced. Spokesman Dwight Steele said their attorneys still were studying the law, overwhelmingly approved Saturday by a special session of the Hawaiian legislature to forestall seizure, the employers must come to terms with the union—or go to court.

U. S. government conciliator George Hillenbrand was trying to set up a new negotiations session. But both sides still were far apart on the issue—a raise of 32 cents in the $1.40 hourly basic Longshore wage.

FRENCH SCOUTS HERE TUESDAY

Canoeists On Marquette
Route Due Aug. 9

The "team Marquette", four French Rover Scouts tracing the canoe route taken by Father Marquette in 1673 in the discovery of the Mississippi river, will arrive in Escanaba tomorrow evening, according to their revised schedule.

They left St. Ignace Tuesday and proceeded to Manistiquette where they were scheduled to arrive Saturday evening. From there they will paddle along the shore, following Father Marquette's historic route to Fairport, thence to Big and Little Bays de Noc to Escanaba.

The quartet is composed of Jean Raspail, Philippe Andrieu, Jacques Bouchard and Yves Korbendau, will probably spend the night in Escanaba and then continue their journey to Green Bay via Menominee. All of the youths are 24, except Korbendau, who is 21.

Traveling in two 17-foot canoes and carrying supplies and camping equipment, the French Scouts are honoring the memory of Father Marquette and other French explorers in North America. They will deliver a brass commemorative plaque to Chicago, one of four cities to be so honored because they have statues honoring Father Marquette. The plaques are presented in the name of the city of Laon, France, home city of Marquette.

From Green Bay the canoeists will enter the Fox river and thence portage to the Wisconsin river and continue on to the Mississippi. They expect to reach Portage, Wis., by Aug. 27.

The young men are averaging 25 to 30 miles of travel on their route each day. They arise shortly after 6 a. m. and travel until noon, when they stop for a substantial meal and an afternoon rest. Following another two hours of paddling they stop and make camp on the shore and have their evening meal. Photographs, a diary, correspondent stories to newspapers, and other records of the trip are being maintained by members of the team.

Police Ticket Driver Who Leaves Accident

Donald LeHouillier of Wells has been ticketed by city police for leaving the scene of an accident, Saturday night at 9:45 p. m., in the 1300 block of Washington avenue.

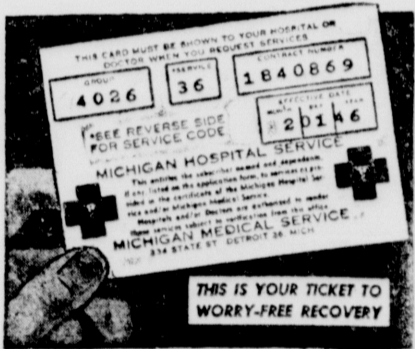

Jack Johnson of 309 Dakota avenue, Gladstone, was traveling north on Washington avenue and while attempting to pass a car turning off Washington avenue, hit the left front end of LeHouillier's car. Johnson told police that LeHouillier failed to move over in the traffic lane to allow room for him. The left rear fender of Johnson's car was damaged.

Mrs. Roosevelt Now Great Grandmother

Portland, Ore., Aug. 8 (AP)—The first great grandson of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was born here yesterday to Mrs. Van H. Seagraves.

The young mother was the "Sister" who romped in the White House in the early years of the late President Roosevelt's administration. The child was named Nicholas Delano Seagraves. He weighed nine pounds, one ounce.

Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, the only daughter of the late president and Mrs. Roosevelt, and her son, Curtis (Buzzie) were here for the birth.

Question: What do you mean when you say Blue Cross is voluntary and non-profit?

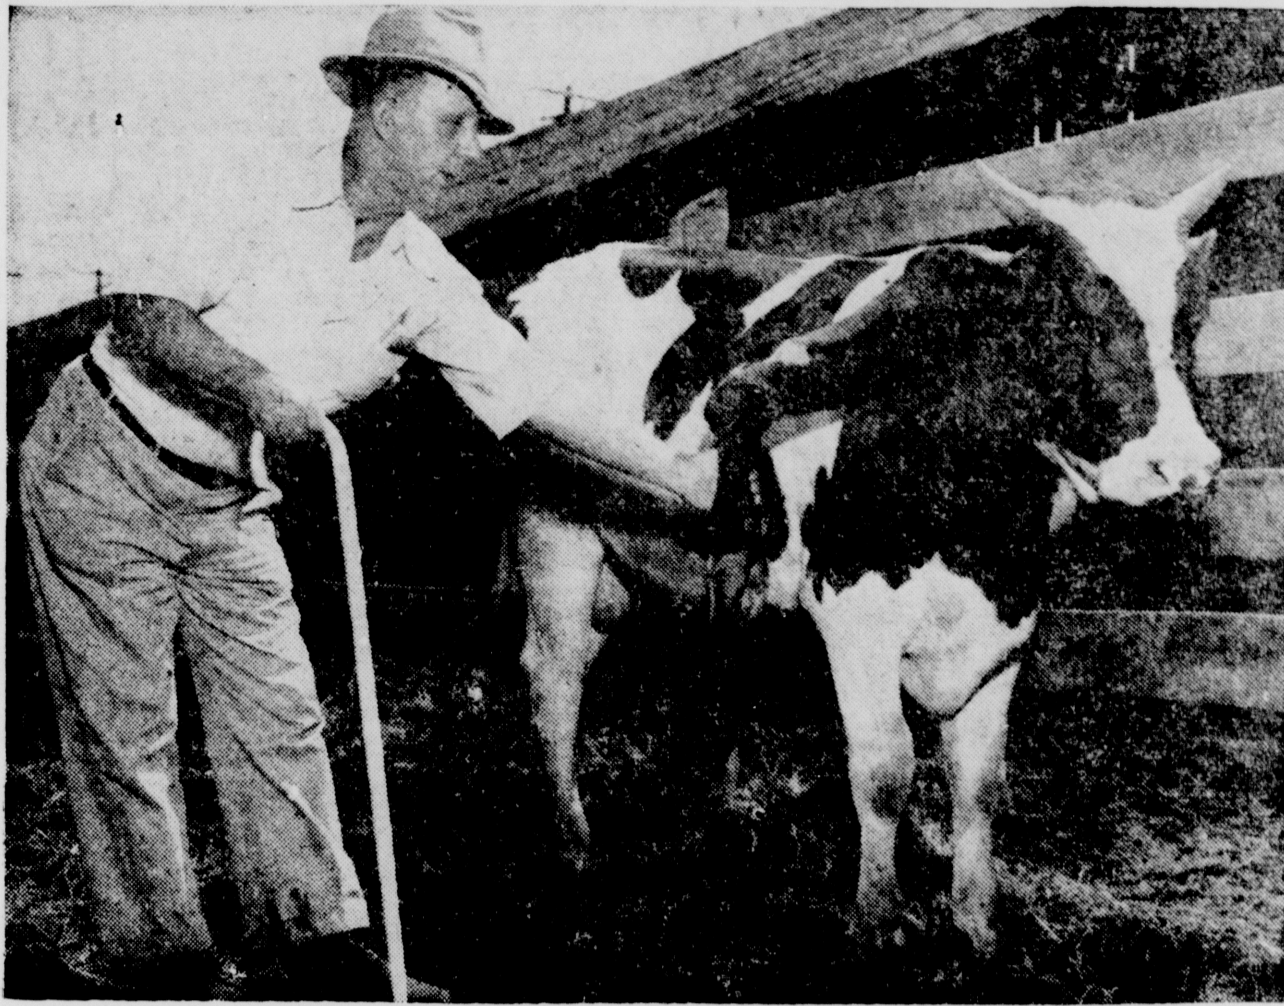

Answer: BLUE CROSS is run voluntarily, in the public interest, by Michigan's Doctors and Hospitals themselves. It is completely and truly non-profit. More than 85 cents out of every dollar received from subscribers is paid out in benefits. That's why BLUE CROSS can offer so many unique features—up to 120 days of hospital care . . . liberal benefits for operations and for doctors' calls at the hospital in non-surgical cases . . . no physical examination or health statement . . . no age limit.

ROTARY CHIEF TALKS TO CLUB

W. B. Bellack, Neenah,
Visits Escanaba

Willard B. Bellack, Neenah, Wis., governor of the Rotary International district that includes northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula, was speaker today at the noon meeting of the Escanaba Rotary club in the Delta hotel.

Tonight at a dinner meeting at the Dells he will confer with officers, directors, and committee chairmen. It is the Rotary district governor's first official visit to Escanaba.

In his talk to the Rotary club this noon he described the worldwide scope of the organization program, and outlined the work of individual members in a variety of club, community, vocational and international projects.

Rotary, founded in Chicago, originated as a "big city" club but now extends into hundreds of smaller communities, a movement that is being encouraged. Membership in Rotary clubs is a cross-section of each professional and business enterprise in the community.

Membership in Rotary calls for a vision of service that is above self-interest, and there can be no lasting success in life, despite the accumulation of material wealth, unless this policy is followed, said Gov. Bellack.

FIRST GLIMPSE

of a BRAND-NEW IDEA

HERE is a hint of something wonderful that's coming your way.

It is more than just the front end of the new Buick SPECIAL. It's a fresh new front end treatment—a "Buick first"—and it makes so much sense that it's safe to say it will start a new trend in styling.

Look it over and you'll see what we mean.

Sturdy vertical bars, attached to the bumper, form the grille—and at the same time serve as bumper-guards, which makes it impossible for you to "lock horns" with the car ahead of you.

The bumper no longer projects beyond the grille—so inches are saved in the over-all length of the car.

Parking lights are deeply recessed. The grille is made up of bars heavy enough to absorb all normal impact—and they're individually replaceable to cut repair costs in the unlikely event of damage.

Bumper, grille, bumper-guards and parking lights all become part of a single, unified design.

But—stunning as this brilliant bit of designing is—it's just a hint of all the new things you'll see when the new SPECIAL goes on display.

Even the price is good news. So watch for the full announcement—coming very soon—and you'll agree that more than ever, Buick's the one for you.

Ferry Problem Is At The Straits

THE Manistique Lions club has urged that Upper Peninsula communities quit quarreling about supplemental ferry routes across Lake Michigan and concentrate upon the improvement of ferry service at the Straits of Mackinac. The proposal deserves generous support from all peninsula communities.

The Manistique Lions contend that supplemental ferry service between Northport and Manistique, or Frankfort and Menominee, or Frankfort and Escanaba would do little to relieve the traffic congestion between the two peninsulas of Michigan. About all these supplemental routes would accomplish would be to provide lovely vacation cruises, at state expense, for an undetermined number of motorists, the Manistique Lions have pointed out. The distances between these ports are all too great to make more than a dent into the inter-peninsula traffic problem.

It is proposed that greater concentration be placed upon faster transportation facilities across the Straits, with particular emphasis upon the abandoned causeway below St. Ignace. Use of this route would cut in half the ferry distance across the Straits. Opposition to it is coming from the city of St. Ignace, which would be by-passed by the shorter route, and by the state highway department which contends that the shorter route would not be used in periods of rough weather.

The bids by various Upper Peninsula communities for auxiliary ferry service across Lake Michigan, particularly by Menominee, Manistique and Escanaba were stimulated by a belief that if additional ferries were to be promoted by the governor's recently appointed inter-peninsula committee, the individual cities had better put their best foot forward for their own gain.

Escanaba's bid for designation as the terminal of such a proposed ferry route undoubtedly was prompted by such a development. It was felt by civic interests here that if such supplementary ferry service were to be developed, Escanaba was at least as logical a place for the peninsula terminal as Menominee or Manistique, and in a number of ways preferable to Menominee and Manistique.

The traffic problem between the two peninsulas can be solved adequately only at the Straits of Mackinac. This is the bottleneck and it always will be the area where a preponderant majority of inter-peninsula travelers will cross Lake Michigan to get from one peninsula of Michigan to the other.

Nationwide Airlines Deserves Franchise

UPPER PENINSULA communities are lending their support to the Nationwide Airlines in its new effort to obtain a franchise to handle air mail between the two peninsulas of Michigan.

Petitions are now being circulated and will be sent to Upper Peninsula congressmen to enlist their assistance when the application is given consideration by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Unfortunately, word comes from Washington that a crowded docket will delay early action by CAB on the amended application for passenger and mail service. The amendment puts Nationwide Airlines on an interstate basis. Green Bay, Wis., is named as a proposed scheduled stop on the Detroit to Copper Country route, which would include Houghton, Grand Rapids, Menominee, Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Marquette.

The Wisconsin Central Airlines some months ago was given the passenger and air mail franchise for a Milwaukee to Ironwood route, via Green Bay and stopping at Menominee, Iron Mountain, Hancock and Houghton. But Wisconsin Central has done nothing about providing air service to the Upper Peninsula while Nationwide Airlines, operating wholly on its own financial resources and asking no subsidy from U. P. communities, has been furnishing a much-needed transportation service for a couple years.

Nationwide Airlines has earned the right to the air mail franchise on the basis of performance, not promises. Could something be done to hasten CAB's consideration of its application?

March Of Dimes Fund Help Polio Areas

PERSONS who contributed to the March of Dimes fund last year are now witnessing a demonstration of how this money is being used to advantage during the current epidemic of polio.

During the week ending July 30, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sent a total of $182,290 in addition to grants to polio-stricken areas. This emergency help includes 71 nurses and seven physical therapists to 13 states and 205 items of medical equipment to 21 states.

States receiving the largest sums were Arkansas $50,975, California $49,525 and Texas $28,300. Michigan was included among the other beneficiary states.

Physical therapists are playing an important role in the present epidemic. Arrival of additional members of this profession in stricken areas is headlined in the newspapers, thus indicating how much importance is attached to their services. Escanaba fortunately has had an excellent therapy program in operation in its schools for several years and doubtless is better prepared for an emergency than many other communities. It is to be hoped, of course, that this community will escape the epidemic that is the cause of deep concern all over the nation.

Even Machines Can Err

SOMETIMES we detect signs that the scientific revolution in the business world isn't going too well.

For example, to eliminate or reduce the "human element," more and more organizations are resorting to elaborate card-filing systems operated electrically. A number of publications have shown a particular fondness for this method of handling subscriptions.

No doubt they get along fine most of the time. But when a machine makes a mistake it seems to be a good deal more obstinate about correcting it than the ordinary human being.

We all hear reports from people whose subscriptions stop mysteriously before they should. Protracted correspondence is often necessary to get things going again. And transferring a subscription is occasionally like negotiating a trade treaty with a foreign land.

Yes, there are times when that old "human element" doesn't look so bad.

GALEOSCOPTES

The catbird belongs in a special category. These days he starts complaining early in the morning; he flits restlessly in and out the shrubbery around the garden. Every few minutes he perches on a branch and growls "meow" at the uncomfortable weather. Then he may experience a lightning change in mood and decide to sit on a bean pole in the garden for a few seconds and pour out a melody of melodic phrases that catches a hint of bluebird, robin and oriole music. Galeoscoptes carolinensis has a unique niche in the bird world. He can imitate anything from a speaking hayrake to the liquor song of the hermit thrush.

His folklore name—Black Mockingbird—gives an inkling of his repertoire. He often shows a sullen temper; his disposition is unpredictable. Often times when he is pouring forth a very creditable song, he breaks off abruptly and his whining, nasal, cantankerous "meow" comes across the lawn. The catbird is one of the most uneasy birds around the farm. He is forever moving in and out of the bushes, trying out different locations in the garden, flipping his tail up and down. Every few minutes he puffs out his breast feathers and elevates his crest.

All through the day he carries on with in explicable tantrums and perverse exhibitionism; his sedate lady, meanwhile, tends assiduously to the housekeeping. She broods the three or four blue-green eggs in the bulky, loosely-woven nest in a thurb or low tree. Early in the spring the male occasionally helps in the nest building; he may recall his promises of honeymoon days. But with rare exceptions, after that he devotes himself to defending his stamping grounds and informing the world of his contemporary mood. The countryman likes the birds around his garden. When most of the birds are quiet, Galeoscoptes doesn't let the clammy weather get him down. True, he scolds about it and there are days when his temper is as short as that of human beings. But even on his worst days he will suddenly settle down to a few minutes of sweet singing that is a welcome break in the dragging hours. The catbird is not spectacular; his coat is a drab gray and black. But the mingled "meow" and strangely pleasant melodies are part of the summer season.—By Haydn Pearson.

UNUSUAL PLACE NAMES

Q. Will you please explain to my class whether the "News" in Newport News, Va., is good or bad?—H. T. T.

A. In 1621 a settlement of Irish colonists were planted there by Daniel Gookin, English colonial pioneer in America. The site was chosen by Capt. Christopher Newport, and Sir William Newce. In their honor the place was named Newport Newce.

For an unknown reason, but probably because scarcely anyone was well versed in spelling in colonial days, Newce in time grew into News. And so it is that the Virginia city is the only place in the country that has a name like a newspaper.—Newport News. The papers there are the morning Newport News Press, and the evening Newport News Times-Herald. (What, no Newport News News?)

Q. How did Massachusetts get its name?—W. T.

A. From "Some Facts About Massachusetts," published by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts: "The state takes its name from the Massachusetts tribe of Indians, who lived in the Great Blue Hill region, south of Boston. The Indian term supposedly

Military Aid Not New U.S. Policy

BY PETER EDSON

Washington. (NEA)—Efforts to oppose the new military assistance program as a radical departure in U. S. foreign policy won't stand up. Anyone who will take the trouble to look at the record since the end of the war will find half a dozen precedents for doing what it is now proposed to do under the MAP legislation which President Truman and the state department have just sent to congress.

When the house foreign affairs committee was considering Marshall plan legislation last fall, the idea of packing up the European recovery program with some military assistance was presented by Rep. John M. Vorys, Ohio Republican. The state department was then asked to draw up the legislation to carry out such a program. A draft bill was submitted and considered. But it never saw the light of day.

Ever since the end of the war, the U. S. armed services through the state department have been sponsoring three bills to facilitate military assistance to foreign countries.

PROPOSED TRANSFER OF ARMS

The first was a request that congress grant authority to transfer surplus U. S. arms to Latin-American countries. Another version of this same idea would have provided for standardization of arms in Western Hemisphere countries. This would have been achieved by permitting the U. S. to give its surplus equipment to Latin-American countries in exchange for similar equipment that might have been furnished by another foreign government. For instance, a German-built destroyer might be traded in for a surplus U. S. destroyer. The German-built ship would then have been scrapped.

The second bill proposed was to authorize the detailing of U. S. military advisory missions to foreign countries. The third bill was to authorize the training of foreign military missions in the U. S.

All these things were done during the war. They are still carried on to a limited extent—particularly in Latin America—under hemisphere defense and the 1948 Rio de Janeiro Reciprocal Assistance Pact plans. The newly-proposed military assistance program would merely extend this authority for peacetime operations and wrap the whole business up in one bill.

The same principle would be applied to continuing postwar military assistance to Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippine Islands.

Aid to Greece and Turkey has of course been supplied under the special "Truman Doctrine" legislation since May, 1947. To date about $500,000,000 worth of such aid has been furnished. The new military assistance program will add another $500,000,000 or more—previously requested—to that endeavor. Including the new aid for the Philippines, Korea and Iran, the total of new money under the military assistance program for these countries would be $300,000,000.

WOULD CONTINUE PHILIPPINE AID
Military surpluses having an original cost of $680,000,000 were transferred to the Philippines under the Rehabilitation Act of 1946. The new military assistance program would continue this effort to set up the now independent islands on a firm basis.

The United States assumed a responsibility in Korea when its Army of Occupation moved into the peninsula to help establish an independent government. Now that U. S. troops have been withdrawn, there is an obligation to continue military assistance to the Koreans to hold their own against Communist pressure from the north.

There has been less publicity about U. S. aid to Iran. But beginning with the sale of U. S. surpluses in the Middle East to Iran, there has been continuing aid through police and military training missions. This aid would be formalized under the military assistance program.

What the military assistance program legislation would do, in summary, is put into one law a number of related activities which have been proposed or which the United States has actually been carrying on in one form or another since the days of World War II.

The legislation would cover assistance to other countries than those mentioned above, if that should be found necessary. In effect, passage of the military assistance program would extend the Truman Doctrine—originally propounded for the benefit of Greece and Turkey—to the whole non-Communist world. The advantage to the government in having all these loose ends wrapped up in one omnibus bill, with a clear statement of policy and authority, is obvious.

means "at or about the Great Hill."

"There are, however, a number of interpretations of the exact meaning of the word. The Jesuit missionary, Father Rasles, thought it came from the word Messatosee, 'Great-Hills-Mouth.' The Revend John Cotton used another variation: mos and wetuset, meaning 'Indian arrow-head,' descriptive of the Indians' hill home. Another explanation is that the word comes from massa meaning 'great,' and wachuset, 'mountain-place.'"

Norfolk: Can you tell us the origin of the name Kentucky?—A. L.

A. From the Kentucky Department of Li-grary and Archives:

"The exact origin of the name of Kentucky has not been definitely established, as there have been so many different opinions on the matter.

"One source contends that the name is derived from the Iroquois word, Kentake, meaning 'prairie or meadowland.' However, another authority does say that the name Kentucky comes from the Wyandot (Iroquoian) word Ken-tah-teh, signifying 'tomorrow' or 'land of tomorrow.'"

Do you think it is wrong to say GRAD-joo-ate, PIK-chur, etc.? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-18, explains why these pronunciations are correct. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, care of Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

THE BIG FAIR—The Upper Peninsula State Fair will open in Escanaba Tuesday, Aug. 16. The fair grounds have been a scene of preparatory activity for several weeks. In the cattle barns the stalls are ready to receive the finest animals grown on Northern Michigan farms; in the exhibition building the many booths have been erected to hold the grains, the fruits and vegetables, the flowers, the handicraft articles and other displays that will make the fair the biggest and best in its history.

Throughout the length and breadth of the Upper Peninsula, on farms, in kitchens, in fields, and at 4-H Club meetings there is preparation for the fair. There will be thousands of exhibitors in one department or another. Mother is finishing her prized piece of needlework, father is carefully tending the prize dairy cow, and sons and daughters are preparing their own entries and dreaming of carnival lights and the big show in front of the grandstand.

SIX DAYS—There are six days in the U. P. State Fair week—six days of something going on all the time. Personal experience in reporting what farmer owned the prize grand champion bull and what 4-H girl did the best canning of green beans allows us to speak with some authority on activity at the fair. It is terrific. Every day is something new. The fair opens with "Queen's Day" and closes that evening with one of the shapely hopefuls being properly crowned. By the end of the week the queen has sore feet and a chronic blink from photographer's flash bulbs exploding in her face.

Beside viewing the hippodrome show and the fair venue, the queen will probably be called upon to pose with gun in her hands during the pistol tournament, congratulate the winners of the amateur contest, watch the 4-H Club parade and the automobile races, inspect the model airplanes entered in a U. P. contest, admire the horses in the horse pulling contest, admire the horses and riders in a special Farmer's Day saddle race, keep her feet tapping to the WALS barn dance music, and grow faint at the daring exploits of Jimmy Lynch and his Death Dodgers. She will undoubtedly faint by the end of the week, more from weariness than fright.

GETTING AROUND—The queen will also be expected to pose prettily with Gov. Williams and other visiting dignitaries, smile vivaciously while she congratulates the 4-H Club boys and girls who win top honors in calf club and cooking, and express at least some interest over exhibits in the art and antique sections.

This variety of chores disposed of, the queen can use her spare time amusing herself along the carnival midway or inspecting the pigs and poultry, according to her fancy. And if she cares to stay up to the close of the evening show she can look at the fireworks, five nights of it.

She will want to look at the entries in the following departments, as revealed by the U. P. State Fair premium book:

Horses ranging through Belgians and Percherons to stallions, colts, dairy cattle, through four classes: beef cattle, from bulls to the set of sire ewine and sheep; poultry and pet stock; the work

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandborn were honored by members of the Swedish Mission church and friends on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. The party was held in the church parlors. The couple was presented with a basket of flowers and a purse of money.

Manistique—Warren Morrison of Des Moines, Iowa, is visiting in this city with his sister, Mrs. Kenneth VanEck, Lake street. He will remain here about two weeks.

Gladstone—George Cameron, who has been spending the summer at White Lake, Wis., is spending a few days here.

She can have her chest x-rayed at the health department's TB clinic.

All in all, the fair queen will spend what you will see when you attend the U. P. State Fair—a representative exhibition of the life and work of our Upper Peninsula people. Only difference is that you will have more time for it.

Give It A Trial

Dear Editor:

I don't understand why "city worker" is against the Brannan Farm plan.

Under the Brannan plan perishable farm products, such as potatoes would sell for whatever they would bring on the market. If these was an abundant crop the price to consumers, such as "city worker," would be low. If there was a scarcity prices would naturally be high.

One spring during the Hoover administration I helped a farmer dump around two thousand bushels of potatoes into the woods because city workers didn't have the twenty-seven cents to pay for a bushel of them. He and his neighboring farmers had more than one experience of this kind.

As for the Brannan Farm plan it seems to me unfair to condemn it before giving it any kind of trial at all. How does anyone know whether it will cost any more or less than the present farm program or the Aiken, Pace or Gore bills, all of them pay subsidies to the farmer?

To understand whether a thing is good or bad for you, you must find out what forces are favoring it and those opposing it.

The farmer is the most important man on earth, he's the only one of all others, we need, to survive. Let's not begrudge him a living wage.

"Not a Farmer."

Likes Royce Plans

Dear Editor:

After hearing over the radio objections to the proposal to block off the road between Sixth and Seventh avenues on South 18th street, may I say that as property owners near there ourselves we object to the objections.

Our reason is this: A park divided certainly is not advisable for it would be dangerous.

We want our children to have a nice place to play. We need that badly around here, but we also need one that is safe.

If you will observe, there is a grade deal of traffic on this street, especially in the summer time on account of the golf course which is on the end of the street.

We think it's a wonderful plan the way it stands. Please may it go through.

Mrs. H. V.

Ruts At The Park

Dear Editor:

While driving through beautiful Ludington Park the other night, I met a car, was forced over into the rutted area, and nearly ruined the front shock absorber attachment, on my car.

I wonder how much money one would have to raise in order to finance a few trips of a city grader through the area. The road itself doesn't seem to be of bad construction, but those holes in the roadway are terrible.

Maybe at the same time we send the grader through, we could start working on a road connecting the band stand section with the area where the shuffleboards, etc., are located. It's only about 500 feet across, by the old bath house. That way cars going through the park wouldn't have to negotiate that awkward swing up (and I do mean up) onto the through street in going from one part to the other.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—One thing the senate investigating subcommittee is likely to avoid in its probe of Messrs. Vaughan and Maragon which opens today is the part they may have played in influencing the Truman doctrine for Greece.

It seems inconceivable that an ex-Greek federal narcotics agent from Kansas City should have had anything to do with U. S. foreign relations. Yet it happens that members of the Greek embassy in Washington are now as jittery as sunflowers in a Kansas cyclone for fear their relations with John Maragon will be probed by the senate.

Every administration has its hangers-on, who love to bask in the limelight of the White House. But no administration since Warren Harding's day has had the benefit of such a weird and apparently influential character as General Vaughan's so-called "Greek adviser," John Maragon.

MARAGON'S RECORD

District of Columbia police records show that Maragon once pled guilty of transporting liquor (7/17/20), was three times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted, and once got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the ball players threatened to beat him up.

Maragon also got into a fist fight with Don Watson, chief of the state department's transportation section at the United Nations convention at San Francisco; was fired by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; got into a street scuffle with Brig. Gen. Wm. L. Lee in Rome, Italy; was found to be distributing anti-semitic literature at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia last year; and was questioned in the death of Police Detective Arthur Scrivener in 1926, one of Washington's most mysterious homicide cases. Maragon established an alibi and later married the girl whom Scrivener was scheduled to marry one day after his death.

Yet, on top of all this, the amazing Maragon turned up at the White House 30 minutes after President Roosevelt died to console President Truman, accompanied the Roosevelt funeral train to Hyde Park; showed up at the Stalin-Churchill conference in Potsdam, was the proud possessor of a White House pass, flabbergasted the admirals by accompanying Truman on the presidential destroyer during the Navy Day fleet review in New York, sat next to the president's boy with General Vaughan during the Army-Navy game, and even had a private compartment on the special train that carried the president to the grave.

Maragon's influence with his old friend, Harry Truman, has been on the wane since first exposed in this column two years ago. But his influence with Harry Vaughan appears just as strong as ever. When Maragon wants to see the president's military aide, he goes to the east wing of the White House, tells the guard that Vaughan wants him, and usually gets in.

TRUMAN DOCTRINE IN GREECE

Maragon's influence was near its zenith in the winter of 1947 when the famous Truman doctrine for aid to Greece was formulated.

That the amazing Maragon directly inspired Greek policy is doubtful. That he and Vaughan influenced it indirectly is more than probable.

The Truman doctrine for Greece, it will be recalled, was announced in March, 1947, shortly after Jimmie Byrnes retired as secretary of state. One of the things Gen. Vaughan constantly needed Truman about was that Byrnes was too much his own boss, that people talked of the "Byrnes policy," not the "Truman policy," and that Truman should get more credit for directing foreign affairs. This was one reason there was so much emphasis on calling the new move in Greece the "Truman doctrine" at the time it was announced.

That doctrine, which has now cost us $1,000,000,000 plus, was precipitated when the British notified us they were pulling out of Greece. But the manner in which the doctrine favored certain Greek political factions has been influenced by two Greek callers whom Maragon steered to the White House—Archbishop Athenagoras and Rev. Thomas Daniel of the Greek Orthodox church.

TRUMAN'S GREEK CALLER

Just why Rev. Daniel should be admitted to the White House at all is hard to understand. Obviously a very close "friend" of the president arranged the appointment, and obviously also "friend" Vaughan did not go to any pains to scrutinize Daniel's record.

For in 1916 Rev. Daniel was found to have committed adultery in the divorce suit of Christie and Marietta Heris of New Haven, Conn. (Superior court of New Haven, July 27, 1917, Judge Donald T. Warner presiding).

In 1922 Daniel was charged with grand larceny in the theft of jewels and clothing valued at $850 at Atlantic City, N. J., but was dismissed for lack of evidence. (Case 57262 Atlantic City criminal court, Aug. 22, 1922, Magistrate Paxson).

In 1925 Daniel was again cited for adultery in the divorce of Harry and Catherine Coroneos. (Court of common pleas, Philadelphia).

Again on July 22, 1930, Rev. Daniel was arrested for drunkenness in the District of Columbia and forfeited security. (District of Columbia police court case No. 930503).

This is one of the Greek advisers whom General Vaughan and the mysterious Maragon steered into the White House for tks with the unsuspecting and trusting Mr. Truman while the vitally important "Truman doctrine" for Greece was being formulated.

Radio Quizzes Try To Duck Screwballs

By HAL BOYLE
New York, (AP)—One lady in the radio studio audience waved some lingerie over her head. Another held up a live squawking chicken.

They were trying to attract the attention of an announcer selecting contestants from the audience to appear on a quiz program.

"But that isn't the way to get on a quiz show," agreed Mark Goodson and Bill Todman. "We aren't looking for screwballs."

These two young men — both under 40 — are authorities on how to be chosen to appear on the radio giveaways. They've picked thousands of contestants for the five CBS network quiz shows they produce — stop the music, winner take all, hit the jackpot, beat the clock and spin to win.

What do they look for? "We're not looking for the greatest brains in the studio," said Todman. "We're looking for nice people the audience will like."

"Yes," said Goodson. "We want to avoid people who are off balance. There is a very thin line between the pleasant extrovert and the real screwball, who may do anything once he gets on the air."

The art in getting selected as a contestant lies in attracting the announcer's eye without scaring him away by being too brash or anxious.

"A bald man is more likely to be picked, for example, than a man with hair," said Goodson. "But if he is wearing a necktie that flashes off and on like an electric sign, we don't want him. He's trying too hard."

Flashy Dresses Out
Women wearing white gloves and a large hat also are likely to be chosen merely because they stand out to the announcer as he passes through the audience in the pre-program warmup period looking for contestants. But a woman wearing flashy jewelry is automatically rejected.

"People don't like to see anyone win money who already looks as if he had more than he needed," explained Goodson.

The producers make every attempt to keep from putting on "semi-pros"—men or women with little to do who go from studio to studio trying to get on as many programs as possible. They also turn down anyone who, when asked why he wants to be a contestant, replies "to win a prize."

"He may be completely honest," said Goodson, "but the listeners often get the impression such a person is too selfish."

Housewives Best
Over the years the producers have found that housewives often make better contestants than college teachers.

"The housewife doesn't feel she has to prove she's smart, so she is more relaxed," said Todman. They also have learned that men or women from the South or Southwest part of America make the best contestants on a geographic basis.

"It isn't that they are any more intelligent or better informed," remarked Goodson. "They are simply more friendly and homey-talking."

"The New Englander is often too laconic—too brief in his answers. On the other hand the New Yorker tends to be over aggressive."

Who makes the ideal contestant? "Oh, I'd say it would be a young man from Fort Worth, Tex., studying to be a doctor and married to a girl who was working to help him get his degree," said Goodson.

"It would help if the wife had just had a baby," laughed Todman. "The audience loves young fathers."

200 At Old Lighthouse For 'Pioneer' Meeting; Hear Stonington Story

Early days at Stonington, particularly activities centering around old Peninsula Point lighthouse, were recalled Sunday afternoon at the August meeting of the Delta County Historical Society that attracted about 200 people to the old lighthouse grounds.

Stonington residents joined with the Historical Society in the meeting. Residents and former residents of that community presented the program.

Peder Pedersen of Stonington was chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Tom Erickson of Bay View, born at Stonington lighthouse, the daughter of the late J. D. Armstrong, one of its keepers, presented a paper on the history of the lighthouse.

Lighthouse Restored
A paper on the history of the Stonington community was read by Mrs. Willmer Larsen. Both papers were supplemented with recollections of early-day Stonington residents, including George Wiltse of Pine Ridge, Peter Jensen of Escanaba, and Lyman Beggs of Pensacola, Fla., who is vacationing at Stonington. Beggs was born at the lighthouse and is the son of the late Charles Beggs, first keeper at the light, who died there in 1887.

Frank Bender Jr., Ford River, president of the Historical Society, opened the meeting and explained the purpose of the Society's "pioneer day" programs in county communities.

The Rev. L. R. Lund, pastor of Lutheran churches at Escanaba and Stonington, congratulated the Stonington people for their sponsorship of the lighthouse repair project. The old lighthouse, built in 1855, and out of commission for about 20 years, has been taken over and repaired under a Stonington Grange project, with the work being done at "repair bays."

"In working cooperatively together to save this structure and preserve it for its memories, you have displayed a true spirit of Americanism," said Rev. Lund.

Fires and Storms

Pedersen, Grange master and Bay de Noc township supervisor, told of the repair work done by a committee headed by Art Sundstrom, and said the Grange is now responsible for the maintenance of the lighthouse building under an agreement with the U. S. Forest Service. He said the Grange is entering the project in a National Grange contest and called upon the public to refrain from damaging the property and to help in its maintenance.

Mrs. Erickson, who had access to the original records of the old lighthouse, told the history of the light and related some of the wrecks that had occurred off Peninsula Point in the early days. Henry Corgan was the second keeper of the light, followed by Peter Knutsen, who was succeeded in 1889 by James D. Armstrong. The record of the lighthouse tells a story of storms and wrecks on the bay, of forest fires on shore, and of long winters of isolation. In 1922 Armstrong was transferred to Escanaba.

Mrs. Larsen in her history of the Stonington community reported that the first transportation from there to Escanaba by boat was on a sloop, the "Little Mackinaw," operated by Mr. Gunderson; and the passenger service by steamboat was on Capt. Coffee's "Annabelle." The last boat to operate between the two ports was Art Sundstrom's gas boat "Belle C."

"The first necessities of the early Settler in Stonington were to begin clearing the land and to construct a log shelter. The first source of income was found in fishing and in selling logs. Later, when farm animals were procured, milk, butter and eggs were sold in Escanaba by the farmers," Mrs. Larsen reported.

Early Transportation
Stonington is largely settled by people of Danish, Norwegian and EARLY ATTRACTIONS—The ships you see here, the lighthouse keepers who guided their captains, and Captains Stratton and Stromberg of Stonington were major points in the early days of Stonington. Immigrants coming to the peninsula from England, Norway, Denmark and Sweden found that the fish in Little Bay de Noc and the tall stands of cedars on the peninsula yielded a good livelihood and an exciting life.

In the upper left you see Captain Peter Jensen, now of Escanaba, who came to Stonington from Schlesvig, Denmark, when he was 17 years old, and his fleet of fishing tugs. The steamer Alice is the three-master schooner you see in the upper right. She was owned by a Milwaukee firm and plied regularly between Stonington and Milwaukee hauling big cedar ties.

Charles Beggs, (at center left) a Civil War veteran, was the first keeper of Peninsula point lighthouse at Stonington. To his right in the layout above are Captain Peter Stromberg, who piloted the two-master "Kewaunee" for the Skaug brothers of Stonington; and next to him is James Armstrong, last lighthouse keeper for the peninsula. In the lower right is the "Dahila," U. S. Lighthouse tender which frequented Stonington peninsula when the mercury light operated. In the lower left corner is Capt. Charles J. Stratton, an early English pioneer, who was the first game warden in Bay de Noc township, and supervisor for many years.

Swedish extraction.

During the winters for a number of years horse-drawn stages carried passengers, mail and supplies across the ice between Escanaba and Fayette. At Stonington they went overland and Charles Beggs operated a Half-way House at Stonington during the winter. In summertime he was the lighthouse keeper.

Incidents in the life of Charles Beggs were recalled by George Wiltse of Pine Ridge, one of the country's pioneer residents. Wiltse's father lived for a time at Stonington and it is for him that Wilsey Bay is named. Wiltse recalled that the winter of 1877-78 was so mild that little ice formed on the bay and boat trips were made each month to Escanaba.

Peter Jensen of Escanaba related that his first Thanksgiving Day dinner in the United States was eaten at the Stonington lighthouse. He and the Christ Christians were guests of Charley Beggs.

Lyman Beggs of Pensacola, Fla., vacationing at Stonington, told of his recollections of old days at the lighthouse, including the wreck of the steamer "Lady Washington." Beggs was born at the lighthouse and attended the first school at Stonington, taught by Nellie Beath.

No Matter the Trend, Finery Will Cost Money

By ED CREAGH

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Park your coats on that hitching post, gents, and let's amble down Fifth Avenue while the women folks are finishing their marshmallow sundae.

The big stores with the chromium-plated floorwalkers broke out a few million dollars' worth of female fall finery over the weekend, and you might as well see what you're going to get nicked for.

Pay no mind to all that fancy advertising. Here's what it boils down to:

The French New New Look is battling it out for the national fashion title with the American back-to-the-1920's look.

You should worry which one wins. Either way, it's going to cost you.

This window here—that bunch of black fluffy stuff on the mannequin with her nose in the air; that's the new new look.

How does it differ from the old new look?

Well, the hem hangs higher. Thirteen and a half inches from the floor. Remember that! You might be asked about it on a giveaway program.

Also, the new new look has something called a floating panel, not to be confused with floating power. The floating panel is a kind of misplaced bib. It hangs down from the waist, apron-wise.

Now then, in the next block, the new old look.

Gad, what memories it brings back—Cal Coolidge, the Charleston, Clara Bow, prohibition.

Hobble Skirt!

The tight, or hobble, skirt is back. Short, too—way up what we used to call the limb. And get that waistline, half-way down the hip. To say nothing of the baggy coat, John Held, jr., style.

Let's face it, men—the oatmeal box figure may be on its way back.

New old look or new new look, you get the plunging neckline. And if it plunged before, it positively plummets now, gents. All

Aviation Cadet Team Coming To Escanaba For Recruit Service

An Air Force Aviation Cadet Procurement team of three veteran Air Force pilot officers will visit Escanaba for five days beginning August 11 to interview young men from this area interested in applying for Air Force Aviation Cadet training.

These officers, Maj. Ralph E. Monroe, Capt. William F. Evans, 1st Lieut. M. W. Hanna, will administer entrance and qualifying examinations that will provisionally qualify all applicants for either pilot or navigator training as Aviation Cadets. Their headquarters while in Escanaba will be at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station at 1215 Ludington street.

To meet the increasing need for trained navigators, the Air Force is expanding its aviation cadet program this fall by opening an Aviation Cadet Navigator school at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Tex. The first class will begin Nov. 1, 1949, with a new class starting every month thereafter.

The Air Force is currently training pilots at the rate of nearly 5,000 a year. With the inception of navigator training, also, hundreds more men will be needed to train as aviation cadets.

Men accepted for Air Force Cadet training, either pilot or navigator, must be between the ages of 20 and 26½, with two years of college education or be able to pass an equivalent examination. Single or married men are being accepted.

The aviation cadet program offers 12 months of the world's best flying, academic and military training. Graduates receive pilots or navigators wings, a commission as a second lieutenant in the AF Reserves, and an assignment to three years of active duty with an operational Air Force Unit.

Upper Peninsula men who desire more information regarding Air Force Aviation Cadet training are urged to contact members of the procurement team at 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba, between 8:15 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., August 11 through the 16th.

OFFICE PRAISEDAuditor General Checkup
Reveals Good Order

A report of the books and records of Schoolcraft county has been received at the court house, it was announced this week by G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk. The report covers the period from January 1, 1948 to December 31, 1948 and was made by the county uniform accounting division of the state auditor general's office.

The state auditors found records of all the offices of the county units in proper order and questioned only one appropriation of the county board of supervisors. The item in question was a $100 donation to the Michigan Children's Aid Society. The attorney general has ruled that lump sum appropriations to this organization are illegal, but allows payment if actual services are rendered to the county. In such cases, itemized bills must be submitted and approved in the regular manner before payment.

The report will be discussed at the next meeting of the board of supervisors.

The auditors listed per capita costs of the county government as follows:

Administrative and operating expenses, $4.51.
Maintenance and construction, highways, $8.66.
Welfare and medical assistance, $9.74.
Miscellaneous, $0.07.
Total cost of county government functions, $21.98.

The bride was lovely in a ballerina length dress of white brocade taffeta, fashioned with a square neckline cap sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt, and a white picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and pink roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift. Her attendant chose an ice blue taffeta ballerina length gown styled like that of the bride with a white picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and pink roses.

For their daughter's wedding Mrs. Estenson was attired in a Navy blue crepe dress with Navy and gold accessories and a corsage of mixed flowers. The groom's mother wore a sheer orchid print with white accessories and a corsage of mixed flowers.

A lawn reception was held from 5 to 7:30 o'clock at the home of the groom's parents.

For their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was attired in a pearl grey gabardine suit with green and white accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 632 North 19th street, Escanaba.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High school class of '46 and is employed by the Delta-McNominie Health Department in Escanaba. The groom attended Escanaba High school and Clover Commercial college and is employed at the Delta Hardware. He served in the Navy for four years.

dancer and Ted Vance, concert pianist, and the GHS girls ensemble entertained a big crowd for several hours.

Several thousand dollars worth of prizes were awarded during the day. Grand prize, a farm tractor, went to John Ohlen, operator of the heating firm here who resides on Route 1, Rapid River.

A tickled girl was Everell Miron, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miron, Cornell, who won a purebred Holstein calf, by winning the calf scramble. Blocks about 2-inches square were distributed over the ground and at a given signal the contestants, more than 30 in number, started picking up blocks. The one having the most blocks on person at the conclusion of a minute period when the second signal sounded was the winner and a checkup showed the young Cornell miss to have topped all picking up 50. Many others were close. Everell already has a calf which she is grooming and will enter in the competition at the competition at the U. P. State Fair in Escanaba next week.

The blooded animal presented the girl was obtained from the U. P. Experimental Farm at Chatham.

Rock and Isabella tied in the tug-of-war contest.

Bears Get Prowly
At Grand Marais;
Another Is Killed

Grand Marais, Mich.—Neighbors near Wayne Hutchins cabins were rudely awakened at 5 a. m. Friday but they were glad when they found out why.

Hutchins fired several shots to kill a large bear which has been making nightly raids of garbage cans in the vicinity of the cabins. The bear was the second killed here in less than a week.

The animals have become more than a nuisance, for they are disturbing stock on farms, killing chickens, and overturning garbage cans in back yards. Some have been seen on Coast Guard point.

Families living on the outskirts of town are afraid to allow little children to play even in their own yards. They still remember the tragedy of the little girl killed at the Soo last year by a bear.

The United States has eight great rivers — the Mississippi, Hudson, Delaware, Potomac, Ohio, Missouri, Columbia, and Colorado.

Snead's Long Putt Scrambles Tourney

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, Aug. 8 (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, golf's top practitioner, has fallen into the squandering habit of gleefully tossing his ball to the gallery at the close of each round.

He did it yesterday in the second round of the $20,000 all-American professional tourney at Tom O'Shanter, and it plunked an unwary spectator in the neck.

And the reason Sambo did it: He just had scooted home a terrific 70-foot chip shot on the 18th green. It landed a four-under-par 68 on the neck of pace-setter Lloyd Mangrum and threw the Tam scramble into a dog-fight.

As 100 pros set out in today's third 18-hole round of the 72-hole test, Mangrum had a half-way total of 134. This was only one stroke ahead of Snead, whose 68 followed an opening 67.

Defending Champion Mangrum, who last Friday had whammed an eight-under-par 64, apparently suffered from a one-day lay-off. He meandered around his home Tam O'Shanter course yesterday in 70.

Not only Snead, the season's leading money-winner with $23,560, but also Herman Barron and Johnny Bulla, tied at 137, were district threats to Snead's bid for the $3,333 winner's swag.

Barron, 1946 all-American winner, also fashioned a 68 yesterday to match Snead for the day's best round. Barron had an opening round 69, while Bulla took a 70 yesterday after a flying 67 start.

Riding well in fifth position, with 138, was Pete Cooper, who slipped to a 70 yesterday after a 69.

Still within hailing distance, five strokes off the pace with 139, was the trio of Clayton Heffner, Fred Haas, jr., and Chick Harbert, who wrenched his back scoring 68 Saturday and was good for just 73 yesterday.

St. Paul Regains First Place in AA

(By The Associated Press)

St. Paul was back in first place in the American Association today.

The Saints broke a tie with the Indianapolis Indians by beating Columbus twice yesterday, 7-5 and 10-1, while the Indians were losing a doubleheader to Kansas City, 11-1 and 7-3.

St. Paul thus moved in front by two full games. The Saints now have won seven in a row.

Louisville jumped from fifth to fourth place, replacing Minneapolis by trimming the Millers 2-1. The second game was a 3-3 tie ended by rain in the sixth.

Toledo beat Milwaukee 7-2 on homers by Eddie Mordarski and Austin Knickerbocker and then lost the second, 5-4.

Coach Al Severance rates John Weglicki as the most improved player on the current Villanova basketball team.

Cubs Cop Waubung Title At Trenary With 32-0 Victory

The Escanaba Cubs clinched the Waubung league baseball championship at Trenary Sunday in a very convincing manner. The Cubs set a new league scoring record in trouncing Trenary, 32 to 0, no less.

Manager Al Ness used his entire roster but the reserves were on the same scoring binge as the regulars. The game turned into a rout in the fifth inning when the Cubs scored 10 runs.

The Escanaba team combined 24 hits with 15 Trenary errors to pile up the huge score. Ron Sedquist and Jack Chriske were the batting stars of the day, each with four hits in seven trips to the plate.

The Cubs are undefeated in the league, with two games remaining. The Cubs will play Munising here Wednesday night.

Michigan Football Candidates Called

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 8 (AP)—Michigan Football Coach Bennie G. Osterbaan has invited a field of 67 candidates to report for fall practice here, beginning Aug. 31.

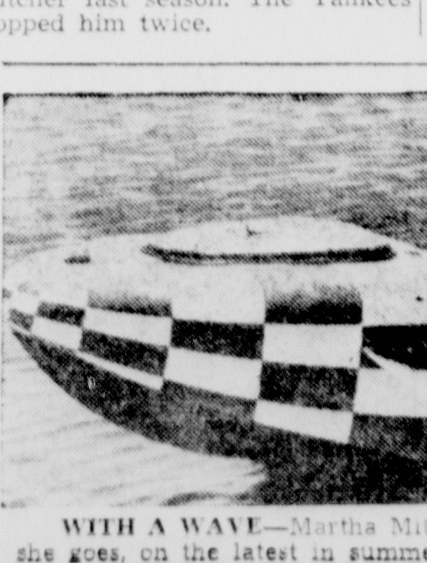

There are only 21 practice days before the Sept. 24 opener here against Michigan State College in the university's enlarged 97,000 seat stadium.

Those recalled include 23 letter winners from 1948's national champions, two from the 1945 team, and 44 sophomores or members of last year's reserve squad.

A dozen Michigan State varsity football players, including Capt. Hal Vogler and ace halfback Lynn Chandoins, are at Camp McCoy. Wis., this summer taking field work as members of the school's advanced ROTC corps.

Thirteen Notre Dame football players will graduate in 1949, including back Frank Tripucka, Terry Brennan, John Panelli and Coy McGee.

Gene Bearden of the Indians beat every American league team except the Yankees as a freshman pitcher last season. The Yankees topped him twice.

Here they come down the stretch with St. Louis and Brooklyn neck and neck in the National league race and 52 games to go.

Brooklyn, which moved into a first place tie by twice dumping Cincinnati while St. Louis was winning a single from New York, may have a slight edge in the schedule. The Brooks have 28 home games left while the Cards must play 28 on the road.

In the easy pickin' department, St. Louis has all the better of it. The Cards have 30 games with Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Chicago, the last three teams in the standings, although the Pirates have been tough for them all year. Brooklyn plays a total of 16 with the sixth, seventh and eighth place clubs.

The six big games between the Cards and Brooks may decide the issue but it's more likely that it will go down to the wire in late September.

Boston's role may be that of a "spiler" for the Brooks. Now 11½ games behind, the 1948 champs appear to have little chance of catching the leaders. But they do have 12 to play with Brooklyn.

The Pirates, likewise, may be the stumbling block for the Cards who meet them 11 times before Oct. 2.

Cincinnati, loser 14 of 18 starts against Brooklyn, was the stepping stone for Burt Shotton's men to regain a piece of first place.

Joe Hatten shut out the Reds in the opener 7-0 and came on to work the last one and two-third innings of the 2-1 second game when Rex Barney got into trouble.

Homers by Bruce Edwards and Jackie Robinson in the first game and by Spider Jorgensen in the second drove in eight of the nine Dodgers runs. Edwards bashed his with the bases loaded in the sixth.

George (Red) Munger got the Cards back on the win path as he stopped New York with seven hits, 9-2. It was the fifth straight victory for the husky right-hander and his 11th of the year. Four Giants errors helped.

Boston broke a five-game losing streak by trouncing Chicago, 11-0 on Bill Voiselle's seven-hitter but fell back into its stallspin in losing the second game in 10 innings 4-3.

Cleveland's hopes took a double jolt from the A's with Elmer Valo and Mike Guerra dealing out the stiffest punches. Guerra's three-run homer and fine relief pitching by Charley Harris saved Lou Brissie's 11th win, 5-4, in the first game. Guerra's two-run single enabled Joe Coleman to grab victory No. 10 from Al Benton in the second 4-2.

Art Houtteman celebrated his 22nd birthday by pitching Detroit to a 6-4 edge over the Red Sox, defeating Maurice McDermott, the sensational rookie southpaw.

The Sox nipped Houtteman for 12 hits, including the 27th home run by Ted Williams and Vern Stephens, but he was tough in the clutches.

Dom DiMaggio batted safely in the first inning, running his hitting streak to 34 consecutive games.

Chicago split a pair with Washington, the White Sox taking the opener, 4-1, on Randy Gumpert's eight-hit pitching, and the Senators breaking a seven-game losing string to cop the second, 1-0 behind rookie Lloyd Hittle.

The Escanaba Cubs entries in the U. P. Girls softball tournament at Iron River Sunday were eliminated in the first round. The Delta Hardware were nosed out 5-4, by the Negaunee All Stars in an overtime contest. The Escanaba Girls lost to Brock's Crossing, 18 to 7, after leading 7-3 going into the fifth inning. The local team collapsed at that point.

The Negaunee All Stars defeated Bruce Crossing, 10 to 2, for the championship.

Bitter Rivalry In Pro Grid Leagues Flares Wide Open

Cambridge Spring, Pa., Aug. 8 (AP)—The bitter rivalry between the nation's pro football leagues flared wide open again today—a National leaguer has jumped to the enemy All-America Conference.

He's 23-year old Johnny Mastrangelo, ex-guard at Notre Dame and until today a key man in the plans of the Pittsburgh Steelers. Johnny's decided to play for the New York Yankees.

He said he jumped to the All-America Conference because the Yanks are paying him more money.

"It was simply a matter of money," Mastrangelo said. "The Steelers couldn't meet my terms and the Yankees could. I've signed with them and I'll report next week."

"I'm not mad at the Steelers and don't want to say too much about my switch," Mastrangelo continued. "I played for them two years, 1947 and 1948. They treated me fine but this year they wanted to cut my salary. I didn't like that. I gave the Steelers plenty of chance to up the ante but they wouldn't and the Yankees offered me considerably more."

John Holahan, manager of the Steelers, said he had "absolutely no comment" on Mastrangelo's action.

The Steelers haven't made any secret of cutting salaries for the 1949 season. They put their 1948 losses at $40,000 and admit they can't stay in business if things don't improve.

The Steelers had only 43 men in camp today as Coach Johnny Micholosen started out on the year that can make or break him.

MONKEY BUSINESS—Java monkeys, newly arrived from the Far East, swarm over the bearded head of a crew member of the Dutch freighter Schiedyk in New York City. Big Three Welching On Tehran Pledges, Says Iran Premier Tehran, Iran, Aug. 8 (P)—Premier Maraghet Mohammed Said said yesterday, the U. S., Britain and Russia had not fulfilled promises made at Tehran in 1943.

An appeal to the U. S. for 200,000 tons of wheat to avert a threatened famine, he said in an interview, had brought no positive reply.

In the present situation, he added, "200,000 tons of wheat is more valuable than 200,000 field guns."

Under the Tehran declaration of 1943, Britain, the U. S. and Russia, recognizing Iran's aid in the war, agreed that "any economic problem confronting Iran at the close of hostilities should receive full consideration."

Premier Said declared his appeal for wheat to the U. S. last year promising payments by installments or repayment in wheat, had been treated "purely as a business proposition, not as an economic or political question as we expected."

He said the only actual postwar help from the U. S. was the sale of arms and ammunition for which Iran was paying.

This was the first time airmail had been carried in a model plane. Flight time was four minutes and 10 seconds. One of the little "letters" went to President Truman, the rest mostly to stamp collectors.

Toledo, Aug. 8 (P)—A 24-ounce baby died at Robinson hospital last night after 49 hours and 15 minutes of life. Tiny enough to be held in the palm of a nurse's hand, the prematurely born boy had been kept in an incubator and fed through a dropper. He was born Friday to Mrs. John Mag, Toledo.

DEFENSE RESTS

New York, Aug. 8 (P)—The defense rested its case in the "Lonely Hearts" murder trial of Mrs. Martha Beck and Raymond M. Fernandez at 11:48 a. m. (EST) today.

A rolling mill that rolled iron into desired shapes was patented by Henry Cort of England in 1783.

Automobile Rolls Off Ferry; 4 Drown At Wenatchee

Wenatchee, Wash., Aug. 8 (P)—An automobile rolled through the endgate of a ferryboat and plunged into 12 feet of water yesterday, drowning four persons.

State patrolmen reported the driver seemed to have lost control of the car. The accident occurred on the swift Columbia river 16 miles north of here.

Although dragging operations were begun almost immediately, no trace of the car or of the bodies has been reported.

Two of the six occupants of the car escaped and swam to safety. They were Frederick A. Petrie, 28, of Lewisville, Ind., and Mrs. Inez Slatter, 60, of Pontiac, Mich. The four dead were reported by the state patrol to be Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Wiker of Manson, Wash., and two visiting friends, Mrs. Harvey C. Petrie, 57, of Lewisville, Ind., and Clementine Petrie, 35, of Richmond, Ind.

BABY DROWNED

Flint (P)—Two-year-old Terry Dingman drowned in Kearsley reservoir here Sunday when a motorboat carrying his family on an excursion overturned 30 feet from shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dingman, Terry's parents, a four-year-old brother, Jack, jr., and an uncle were rescued.

Work Brigade Best Place For Romance, Communists Decree

Prague, Aug. 8 (P)—The Communists are trying to harness the energy which poets say makes the world go round.

If Czech boy wants to meet Czech girl, or vice versa, the place to do it is in the "volunteer" work brigade which hustles folk out into the harvest fields or other work projects for the "new Democratic society."

That was the dictum laid down for "romantic" Czechoslovakia—youth and not so young—by the Prague Communist press yesterday.

The Communist party organ, Rude Pravo, announced a ban on lonely hearts advertisements offering the hands of eligible bachelors or maidens in marriage.

Rude Pravo said the newspapers had decided not to accept that type of advertising because the Russians had shown them it was an undignified practice which made marriage "a capitalistic business transaction."

Marriage bureaus also will be taxed, Rude Pravo warned.

The Communist-dominated Czechoslovak youth front said the best substitute for such capitalistic enterprises was the work brigade, where hearts could beat in true Marxist-Leninist time and the lovers could at the same time contribute to the reconstruction of the People's Democratic Republic.

Fall Campaign Pledges Faced By Democrats

January. This bill would have raised the minimum from 40 cents to 75 and eventually $1, and brought millions of new workers in under the Wage-Hour Act.

The House committee finally approved a 75-cent bill with fewer changes in coverage. It would have added about 5,000,000 workers to the approximately 20,000,000 now covered by the law. The Senate Labor Committee has approved a bill raising the minimum to 75 cents, and making a few other changes, but omitting any large-scale increase in coverage. This is due for debate soon.

Lesinski's first bill ran into a rules committee roadblock, and he moved to by-pass the rules group and get it to the floor anyway.

Then last Tuesday he introduced a compromise bill drafted after weeks of conferences with Democratic leaders. It cleared the rules committee Friday.

This bill would make the boost to 75 cents, but would affect coverage of the present law in only minor instances. It would drop out approximately 120,000 employees of small sawmills who are covered by the law now, and would extend minimum wage coverage to between 100,000 and 115,000 seamen and protection of the 40-hour week to between 600,000 and 650,000 maintenance employees of bus, truck and air lines.

Lucas' bill would raise the minimum wage to 65 cents, then tie it to the cost of living. It would be adjusted up or down every year, but could not fall below 50 cents.

This bill, labor committee experts estimate, would exclude more than 1,000,000 workers now covered by the law. It would be done, they say, by exempting employees who are not indispensable to production for interstate commerce.

Combs' amendment would set the minimum at 75, and create industry committees to study conditions in each industry. The committees could recommend a downward revision of the minimum in any industry, but could not raise it above 75.

Sims' proposal would raise the minimum to 60 cents an hour right away, then lift it to 65 at the end of a year and to 75 after seven years. His amendment would make no changes in coverage of the law.
